

I am in favor of dropping the requirement for Morse Proficiency Testing; however I do not believe that the HF bands should be opened automatically to the lower license classes. Tech Plus and Tech should be merged and thus the HF allocations that are available with it. Any further access to the additional HF bands should continue to require testing at the General or Advanced levels.